COMMENTS:

Darryl says: The Force MD'S had R&B hits in the 80's and now they are entering into the Blues Scene. Thanks to Chris Cunningham for turning us on to this song!

Tori says: So, I was asked by a local committee to request my fellow County Commissioners to sign off on yet another resolution supporting "Amity Day". (That's a national movement/holiday. Look it up.) Amity Day is all about friendship between the races, etc. But this year I'd had enough. Just as faith without works is dead, words without actions are meaningless. So I told the people that it's all just pageantry unless they plan to walk the walk. I'll no longer waste time on lip service, and the next time someone says "let's just pray about it", I'm gonna wanna just pop 'em in the mouth. Am I sounding like Charles Barkley right about now? Probably. But I'm good with that. Seriously, I won't assault them but I will likely just turn around and walk away. As for those who say Biden is too old, or should force Bebe to stop bombing the Palestinians, I say stop being naïve. Biden and the United States can't achieve peace in the middle east any more than General Colin Powell could when they assigned him that task. That's my sermon for the week. Now I'm gonna go hang out with my momma for Mother's Day weekend. Love and Peace (everywhere... even in the middle east!) from the Soul of the Shoals and Tori.
