COMMENTS:

Darryl says: His pick this week is Jaye Hammer's "Hangover" on Ecko. (Hey Larry Chambers!)

Tori says: Tomorrow is the day that our nation will decide whether to move forward with positivity. (Some of my pals have already updated their passports just in case.) I'm optimistic. And I've been praying a lot. Kamala is the only logical choice. Musically, it's great to hear some of the classics being reimagined. John Legend is the man. Kinda wish I lived next door. I'm missing Carl Thomas and really wish he'd drop another album (or if he has that I had a copy of it!) and I miss a cat named Gary Taylor who is one of the smoothest singers ever. On the home front, the Sheffield Redevelopment Authority held a series of outdoor concerts during the month of October in Riverfront Park. We called them Sunday Sunsets and we're grateful to the most High for blessing us with perfect weather. Last week was the last one for this year so I joined my pal Tina Mitchum on stage and sang back up for her as she led the song "Mustang Sally". Playing guitar was the one and only Kelvin Holly. (Look him up and see for yourself. Muscle Shoals really does have the best musicians.) Love and peace to all of you. Tori
