COMMENTS:

Darryl says: Lenny Williams is back with a new one called It's Yours on Never Stop Ent. VERY GOOD LENNY.

Tori says: The NAACP Tri-County Branch held its annual Freedom Awards Breakfast yesterday. It was a very inspiring morning, and we had an excellent turnout. Sometimes it does our souls good to get together just to be reminded that we're all in this together. And my NAACP family surprised me with a plaque of appreciation for my twelve years as branch president. Different topic: last week, one of our state senators called me to ask for some additional background about WZZA for the letter of endorsement he's writing about WZZA's nomination to be a national heritage site. Truly an honor to be nominated! Any time any of y'all are in the Shoals area, please let me know you're coming and plan to stop by WZZA and take the tour of the station. My mom isn't here every day so you'll probably not be asked to do any work. (One time while Ric Ross was here promoting his company's artists, Mom happened to notice dust on the top of one of the file cabinets. She decided that he was tall enough to reach back to the wall and handed that poor man a dustcloth. I was mortified. He said he would be holding that incident over my head for a while. So now you all know why all his records got added, lol.) Tori
